The Graduate School

• Mission: to train the next generation of leaders.

• We support the research and educational missions of 104 programs (75 degrees, 29 certificates) and over 1,200 faculty.

• We oversee admissions, program development and reviews.

• We provide quality control for all aspects of graduate education and provide standards and policies that provide for the best possible graduate experience.
The Graduate School

• We work to provide graduate student financial support that allows you to devote as much time as possible to your research and education.

• We are the primary advocate for the need for students to be students and to have the time and support to do so.

• We keep track of your progress and help you be sure you meet your degree requirements.

• We provide a broad array of programs on issues related to graduate student life such as health, safety, housing, mentoring and career & professional development.
