

Income Taxes and your stipend

The information provided is not intended to be used in preparing your tax return. Its purpose is to provide you with an overview of how your income tax is determined, and to help you find answers to the questions most commonly asked by students.

Domestic Students

Please visit our website at <http://personalfinance.duke.edu/manage-your-finances/overview/taxes> to help you with the following questions you may have regarding your income taxes:

- Do I need to file?
- What taxes are associated with earnings?
- Scholarships and Fellowships
- Tax deductions
- Tax credits versus tax deductions
- Filling your taxes

Four steps to reporting your scholarship and fellowship income

<http://personalfinance.duke.edu/manage-your-finances/overview/taxes/scholarships-and-fellowships>

1. Add up how much scholarship and fellowship income you received.
2. Determine how much you paid towards qualified educational expenses.
3. Calculate the taxable portion of your scholarship and fellowship income.
4. Report the income and educational expenses on your tax return

Tax Seminar Video from 2014: <https://youtu.be/mPc2mJU3PSo>

International Students

If you are an International Student at Duke, the International House's website is a great resource for your tax filing information and questions:

<https://studentaffairs.duke.edu/ihouse/living-essentials/taxes/federal-tax-information>