

DUKE
THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Graduate School Professional Development

Preparing for All Career Options

Preparing for Faculty Careers

KEY

- Earns course/transcript credit or certificate of completion
- Can be one-time participation

Your Professional Development Starts Today
Find more information at gradschool.duke.edu

Graduate School Professional Development

Teaching Ideas Workshops

gradschool.duke.edu/TeachingIdeas

This annual workshop series is open to graduate students, postdocs, faculty, and staff. Speakers address topics relevant to classroom teaching, dealing with students, or faculty life and career paths.

Courses on College Teaching

gradschool.duke.edu/Courses

One-credit courses address topics including fundamentals of college teaching, course design, visual communication, online teaching, student diversity, and topics and careers in higher education. These classes form part of the requirements for the Certificate in College Teaching.

Certificate in College Teaching

gradschool.duke.edu/CCT

This program prepares Ph.D. students to teach and provides formal documentation upon completion of the program, which helps make students more competitive when applying for faculty positions.

Bass Instructional Fellowship Program

gradschool.duke.edu/Bass

This program provides endowed fellowships for graduate students to gain high-quality teaching experience as instructors of record, instructional teaching assistants, and online apprentices.

Preparing Future Faculty

gradschool.duke.edu/PFF

This yearlong program provides graduate students and postdocs with workshops and mentors to prepare them for the multiple roles they may play as faculty members at a variety of academic institutions.

Emerging Leaders Institute

gradschool.duke.edu/ELI

This six-week intensive program, open by competitive application, helps participants develop their competencies in communication, self-awareness, professional adaptability, interdisciplinary teamwork, and leadership, leading to a certificate of completion. Offered Spring Semester.

Professional Development Series

gradschool.duke.edu/PDS

This event series includes talks, workshops, panels, and events that can help students identify and develop transferable skills to prepare for careers in academia, industry, government, nonprofit, and entrepreneurship. Series include:

- Core Competencies
- Ph.D. Career Paths
- Academic Job Search Series (biannual)
- Careers Beyond Academia (biannual)

Professional Development Grant

gradschool.duke.edu/ProfDevGrant

Students' professional development needs vary across disciplines. The Graduate School offers the Professional Development Grant as a way to support discipline-specific programming at the program or department level that complements the programs, events, and opportunities offered by the School.

Professional Development Blog

gradschool.duke.edu/ProfDevBlog

The Professional Development blog offers students an opportunity to learn about professional development, to share their experiences through their own posts, and to build their online career networks. It showcases professional development programming and profiles student and alumni successes for an audience of current students, alumni, and potential employers.

Responsible Conduct of Research

gradschool.duke.edu/RCR

Responsible Conduct of Research training is a formal requirement for every master's and Ph.D. student enrolled in The Graduate School. All master's students are required to complete four hours of RCR training during their orientation. All PhD students are required to complete 12 or 18 hours of RCR training in their first four years of study, depending on their discipline.

Online Resources

gradschool.duke.edu/ProfDevOnline

Find an Introduction to LinkedIn workshop, recordings of past events, and access VersatilePhD's CareerFinder tool.

Find all our events: gradschool.duke.edu/ProfDevEvents

Contact the Professional Development Team: grad-profdev@duke.edu